

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

VOL. 5--NO. 305

MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1886.

PRICE ONE CENT.

Combating IRON with TRUE VEGETABLE TONICS, quickly and completely CLEANSES and ENRICHES THE BLOOD. Quickens the action of the Liver and Kidneys. Clears the complexion, makes the skin smooth. It does not irritate the skin, and is a valuable substitute for STIPITATION. ALL OTHER IRON MEDICINES DO.

Physicians and Druggists everywhere recommend it.

DR. N. S. RUGGLES, of Marion, Mass., says: "I recommend your Iron Bitters as a valuable and effective remedy. It does not hurt the teeth."

DR. R. D. POWELL, of Ind., says: "I have prescribed Brown's Iron Bitters in cases of heart trouble, and have proved them satisfactory."

DR. J. R. NEWTON, of New York, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters has been a great blessing to me in my practice. I have prescribed it in every case of heart trouble, and have been gratified in all cases."

Genuine has above Trade Mark and crossed red lines.

THE BEST

boon ever bestowed upon man is perfect health, and the best way to acquire health is to purify the blood. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Mrs. Eliza A. Cough, 34 Arlinton st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "Every winter and spring my family, including myself, use several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Experience has convinced me that, as a powerful purifier, it is very much superior to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. All other tonics, and especially delicate children, are sure to be greatly benefited by its use." J. W. Starr, Laconia, N. H., writes: "For years I was troubled with Sarsaparilla complaints. I tried several different preparations, which did me little, if any, good. Two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a complete cure. It is my opinion this medicine is the best blood of the day." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, was purged by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and now am no longer troubled with it. I am now using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles, am greatly benefited, and believe it to be the best of blood purifiers." H. Harris, Credel City, Ramsey Co., Dakota, writes: "I have been an intense sufferer with Dyspepsia, for the past three years. Six months ago I began to use

Blood

Purifier

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

It has effected an entire cure, and I am now as well as ever."

Sold by all Druggists.

APPEAL TO WORKINGMEN.

THE CENTRAL UNION ASKS THEM
ALL TO ORGANIZE.

The Time Has Come When They Can become a Power in Politics--The Principle
They Ask Every One to Battle for is
"The Land for the People."

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The campaign executive committee of the Central Labor Union have sent out the following circular:

"To Organized Labor Throughout the United States, Greetings:

"The moral victory which we have won in New York by the polling of 68,000 votes for our candidate in the campaign begun by the Central Labor and the Central Union, and the support of the Workingmen of New York, who have received from all parts of the country, encourage us to believe that it is now within the power of organized labor to begin a national movement that shall carry to triumphous success
the great principles on which industrial and political emancipation must be based.

"This campaign has shown us that in spite of all differences and divisions it is possible to unit the workingmen of America upon a basis of fundamental principles.

"What we have done in New York has been accomplished in the face of greater obstacles than exist anywhere else throughout the country. We see that it is only necessary to improve our organization here to carry this movement to a successful issue. The next step is to get the Workingmen of America to form a national confederation in
the cause of the workingmen.

"It is proper that organized labor, wherever it exists, should take the initiative in this movement. But it is our opinion, concerning the workingmen of America, that the most effective organization for political action to be formed outside of labor associations, and controlled by their members. In this way we may avoid any conflict with the existing associations, and yet retain the right to be a national confederation in
the cause of the workingmen.

"We see that the next greatest sprout up among the new hands who took the places of the strikers when they heard the news of the end of the fight. Many of them have already expressed a desire to quit work. All such will be paid off and sent back to their homes and controlled in all as are competent and choose to continue will be retained and protected.

The military command under Gen. Fitzsimons and the deputy sheriffs under Chief Burke will be retained in Packington as long as the strike continues. The militia was scattered at 5:30 o'clock and the militia were distributed to posts near the different big houses where the strikers have returned.
No violence occurred. No companies were sent out as herefords to patrol Haledon and other streets in the town.

WITNESSING FOR THE VERDICT.

AN INTERESTING CASE AT SPRINGFIELD
CONNECTED WITH THE JONES EMBRITTLEMENT.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 16.—Last March the prothonotary of Franklin and Kille company, one of the largest manufacturers of this city discovered that one of his men had been opened and the books stolen on.
Frank H. Jones, bookkeeper, was arrested and $450 in books were found on him.
He confessed, and said that some of the books
had been taken at the home of Carroll at Spring City, Tenn. The books were alleged to be of the Jones Embrittlement.
Misa Carroll was arrested as Jones' accomplice
and his wife, for whom he had a strong affection, was also arrested. The trial was to be held on Monday, but the court adjourned disapprovingly, and directed Gen. Crook to prevent the escape of the Indians and renegotiate. Tuesday Gen. Crook asked the court to adjourn, and the court directed that Gen. Miles found two men to serve as jury Saturday and a verdict not yet been rendered.

APACHE CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Gen. Edward F. Peck, the Apache, gives what is believed to be authentic extracts from correspondence between Gen. Crook and Gen. Sheridan, while the former was in command in the southwest. Gen. Crook telegraphed that he had no objection to the Apache's remaining in their country, and that their neutrality was to be secured on any terms. Until we can

THE CONCERT at the court house last night given by Professor Frost and his pupils, assisted by friends, was a success financially and otherwise. The house was nearly filled with an appreciative audience, although but little advertising had been done. Professor Frost deserves the thanks of our music loving people for the treat given them, and is sure of an audience hereafter.

CHARLES HENDERSON, the confidence man who was arrested at Louisville some days ago for swindling an old farmer of Shelby County out of $3,300, has been reaping a rich harvest, if accounts are true. As soon as he was released by giving $1,500 bail at Shelbyville, he was arrested by the Boyle County authorities for swindling Dr. Wm. Burk, of Danville, out of $6,800. He was held to bail in the sum of $4,000 to answer this latter charge. But this is not all. The Sheriff of Bartholomew County, Ind., wants him for swindling an old farmer at that place out of $5,000 last August, and the half, perhaps, has not yet been told.

Sunday School Institute.

The Union Sunday School Institute, as previously announced, will meet in this city next week, on Tuesday morning, Nov. 23, at 11 o'clock, and continue in session until Wednesday night. The meeting will be held in the Central Presbyterian Church, and several prominent Sunday school workers from different parts of the State will be present and help to make the exercises both interesting and profitable. All the Sunday schools of the various evangelical churches in this district, consisting of the counties of Mason, Bracken, Lewis, Fleming, Nicholas, Robertson and Harrison, are cordially invited to send delegates, and ample entertainment will be provided for all. It is requested that Superintendents will see that delegates are urged to be present. Send names of delegates to H. C. Barkley, Chairman of Committee on Entertainment, Maysville, Ky. This is a fine opportunity, which we hope will be appreciated, to hear the best methods of conducting Sunday schools earnestly discussed. The various newspapers in the counties above named are requested to publish in their next issue a notice of the meeting of the institute.

The Great Express Robber Writes Another Letter—He Claims to be a Mayevillian.

And that $50,000 of the "Filthy Stuff" He Stole on the 25th of Last Month Lies Hidden on "Old Fort Hill."

REVIEW OF A REMARKABLE ROBBERY

CINCINNATI, OHIO, November 13, 1886.

Editor Mayeville Bulletin, Mayeville, Ky.—Dear Sir: You are no doubt aware that at this present period of time there is more or less interest being manifested by the unscrupulous and brigandaged public to the subject of the Adams Express Company's trouble, resulting in the loss of some $75,000, which occurred on the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad a short while ago.

I regret exceedingly the unpleasant predicament in which messenger Fotheringham has been placed, and in order to relieve as far as possible the public mind, I will give you a brief summary of the affair, and who the express robbery was committed, and who the expressman who was responsible, and I am bound to say that it is a most singular and brutal. It is unnecessary to mark that I needed it, yes, needed it badly, or I wouldn't have taken it. You will no doubt be surprised to learn, however, that I am now Mayeville man, and I am staying here two years ago to lead an honest life, but finding that prosperity which a two confiding nature suggested, I took to "ways that are dark and tricks that are evil," and am now a weedy man. I have kept for my own personal expenses incurred in the "transaction," $25,000, and I shall continue to keep it notwithstanding the super-human efforts of the officious "blocks" who call themselves detectives to unravel the mystery. The balance, amounting to a sum of $50,000, you will find has been put in a safe in the Adams bank, on "Old Fort Hill" by the expressman released, as I do not want to see an innocent man punished. Please publish this letter in your paper, and when you get the money place it in the First National Bank and notify the officers of the express company, and you will confer an everlasting obligation on one whom you know well, but who prefers to remain for the present. JIM CUMMINGS.

The above remarkable document was received by the 11 o'clock mail yesterday. To say that it created some surprise is but telling the truth. Whether it was going on as a joke by some of our friends, or whether it was written by "Jim Cummings," who figured in the big express robbery referred to, committed on the 25th of last month, we are, of course, unable to say. If it was intended for a joke, all well and good. We can enjoy a jingle like that as well as the next fellow, where no harm results to any one. But if it wasn't intended as a joke, it is not the first letter written by Mr. Cummings since the robbery was committed. And what his object is in writing these letters is best known to himself. The person who wrote the above letter has some knowledge of our city and its surroundings, but he is a little "off" when he places the reservoir on "old fort hill." The hill where the reservoir is built is separated from "old fort hill" by a deep ravine, as is well known by our readers. But that's neither here nor there. Jim Cummings may be a Mayevillian man, and then again he may not. If the party who wrote the above letter and the party who committed the robbery are one and the same, he is a pretty slick customer, as is shown by the fact that he has succeeded in shrouding the whole affair in mystery and in baffling, so far, the shrewdest detectives of the country. The robbery is one of the most remarkable from its boldness and magnitude committed of late years, and a review of the case will prove interesting at this time.

D. S. Fotheringham, a messenger of the Adams Express Company had a run on the St. Louis and San Francisco road. He left St. Louis on the night of October 25th with a large amount of money in his charge. Between that place and Pierce City he was robbed of about $75,000. Superintendent Daniels gave the following as the result of a rigid examination of the messenger: "Mr. Fotheringham says that as he was about to go on on his run that night, a man came to him with a letter purporting to be signed by Superintendent Daniels and John B. Barrett, the route agent, instructing him to take the bearer, Jim Cummings, on his run as far as Pierce City, for instructions. In accordance with these supposed instructions, Fotheringham took the stranger, and set him to work checking up. Then he began his own work. Fotheringham was standing with his back to the stranger, his coat off, and the handle of his revolver sticking out of the pistol pocket."

"About ten or fifteen miles out of the Union Depot he was attacked from the rear. The stranger gripped his neck with one hand, and grasped his revolver with the other. Before Fotheringham realized what was being done, he was thrown to the floor. He struggled and fought, but the stranger overcame him and bound him hand and foot. Then he put a gag in his mouth and tied him to the safe. Having secured the messenger, he proceeded to go through the safe and take all there was in it. Several pouches of silver he cut open, but left them when he found what they contained."

"At Mincks some men, working in a lime kiln, flagged the train on account of some obstruction on the track. While it was standing still some one tried to get into the express car, but the robber stood over Fotheringham with a revolver, and prevented his making any effort to cry out. At or about Pacific Station, the robber took his plunder, and opening the front door of the car, went out on the platform and closed the door after him. What he did after that Fotheringham does not know. He lay on the floor of the car until the train reached St. Clair, when he was able to get the gag out of his mouth and cry out for assistance. The trainmen, hearing him, endeavored to get in the back door, and finding it locked, went around to the front door, which the robber had not secured. Fotheringham says the robber was about six feet high, 24 years old, and weighed about 200 pounds. He had dark, straight hair, cut close, a thin, dark mustache, a low forehead, wore dark clothes and a dark-gray overcoat."

Fotheringham was gashed with handkerchiefs, tied in knots, forced into his mouth and bound around his head. His hands were tied together behind his back with a silk handkerchief. His legs were fastened with straps, taken from the valises in the car, and with cords, and with the heavy strap which was around the seat, he was tied to the handle of the seat."

Such is the account of the robbery given by the messenger. It is certainly a remarkable case. The shrewdest detectives have been baffled by the cunning robber up to the present time. The present state of the case is depicted in the following special in Sunday's Enquirer from St. Louis. It says: "The express robbery is more of a mystery now than ever. One theory is advanced and followed up for a few hours or a day or two, and then another is taken up and worked on until it is shown to be no better than its predecessors, and is itself abandoned for another, and so on. Fully developed have been advanced, and found strong supporters, and now one seems just as likely to be correct as any other. The only arrest made so far is that of Fotheringham, the express messenger, and the belief in his innocence is entertained by a great many more people to-day than two weeks or two days ago. Most of the valuable papers taken by the robber have been restored through the newspapers to which they were sent, and the chief employment of the detectives now is tracing up these packages, and the letters of Jim Cummings. The letter to the Globe-Democrat purports to have been written at St. Joe, and bore the post-mark of that city, and the one received by the Republicans bore the same evidence of having been written and mailed at Topeka, Kansas. The St. Joe letter was dated a couple of days after the robbery, but is believed to have been written before it. The Topeka letter must have been written after the robbery, as it refers to occurrences after it; and could not, therefore, have been written by Fotheringham."

Remarks made by Jim Cummings on the backs of papers returned are in the hand writing of the two letters referred to, and one of the clews being worked over is based on the close resemblance of a certain express agent's hand writing to that of Jim Cummings. The similarity is most remarkable, and both penmanship experts and detectives are now engaged on this clew. The packages returned purported to have been mailed at St. Joe, but they bore no post-mark, although bearing the stamps called for by first-class mail, and can not be traced outside of St. Louis."

MISTER WILL LOUIS PELHAM entertained quite a number of his friends last evening. His parent's home was luminous with light, joy and gladness, and the young folks say they never had so grand a time.

MR. J. T. KACKLEY has sold his line of black books, school books and stationery to Mr. A. J. McDowell, who will continue the business at the present stand. Mr. Kackley will continue his photographic business where he is now located.

POLITICS IN ENGLAND.

LORD SALISBURY GETTING HIS PARTY IN TROUBLE.

The Government's Position on the Bulgarian Question Has Excited General Contempt-Tenants Adopting the Policy of the League—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The position of the government which was to have been vastly improved by Lord Salisbury's speech at the Mansion house has been vastly weakened that speech itself. The prime minister touched on two issues, and on each, his tenantry still, as usual, has a source of trouble for a long time to his party, or rather to the alliance by which he is maintained in power.

On the Bulgarian question, his bowering on Austria to war without having the least notion of going to war himself, has excited general contempt. The prime minister wants to continue in power. On the Irish question also his mean attempt to conceal the fact that he has actually been coining, not the moonlighters, but the landlords, has delighted no one and instead of impressing the English public, has only increased the existing rank and file. He has, however, given life to the movement because it shows that at present at least while a crime is flourishing he dare not pursue a concord policy.

The tenantry of Clarens have adopted the policy of the league since he spoke and the tenants in at least five other large estates, have followed their example.

It may be added here that the prosecution of the Nationalist paper in Roscommon, which might be signs, seem to show that the government was but on conviction, is a mere sham, intended only to delude the English public, but the absence from it of all allusion to the program of legislation for the next session by means of which Lord Charles Dilke's solution of the Irish question, is the most remarkable feature about the Salisbury deliverance, and hereby hangs a tale.

The fact is that if Churchill has delighted his landlord allies by his promised reforming, he has angered the old gang of Tories beyond measure, and it is owing to the representations made by them that the prime minister ostentatiously evaded all reference to his recent speech, and to return to the Irish question, still holds the field, as Mr. Gladstone foretold it would.

The winter campaign on both sides in fact has now fairly begun in Great Britain, and on the Home Rule side is being carried on with great vigor. The Irish press agency is doing its best to expose the Home Rule party, the hundred thousand, and the effect in making converts is already greater than could have been expected.

One great result of the Lees Conference has been to clear the way for the favorable reception of this literature, and of the Irish speakers. Parnell, Sexton, Dillon, O'Conor, and Healy, are now openly and avowedly supported by Scotch organizations as are the leaders of the Liberal party themselves.

Complaints used to be made in England of the language used at Irish meetings, but the most violent words were not used on the Irish platform. The English people, however, have recently been seeing things in silence to themselves, and who are now relating their experiences to their countrymen. On the whole, the situation from the point of view of most Americans, to the final result of the present struggle, though, of course, very few expect any immediate good, could only come from a very improbable event, the reprobation of the Liberal dis-

A Real Test of Torpedoes.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Owing to the partial failure of the Royal Navy to begin the beginning to distract the potential of torpedoes. Experts, however, assert that the recent trials have not been altogether fair, and insist that in order to make them so, the vessels attacked must be under full headway, and that the trials must be made in the harbor. This sort of a test is in the extreme, but it is understood that Lord Charles Beresford has offered to find and command a volunteer crew to man the ship attacked. The trials, however, are to be made in the harbor, to the foolish proposition of one of the Beresford ancestors, who offered an Irish railroad company £40,000 to allow two express trains to come into collision for the amusement of himself and guests.

Turkish Railroads.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—In spite of the sultan's assent to the proposed plan of the British government to develop the resources of the key, and establish an elaborate system of railroads throughout the country, it is evident that the Turkish government does not intend to act in the matter. If the sultan were to act, he would be compelled to act in the interests of the railroads, which by the enormous gratuities demanded, will defeat the serious proposals for an extensive American railway scheme now pending. As it is, there is no likelihood that the present plan will be adopted or that new ones will succeed in the future.

Prophetic Conference.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Delegates to the "National Prophetic conference," which opened yesterday, and will continue to the 21st, are arriving in the city in large numbers, the east especially being well represented. A number of clergymen of different denominations have gathered to place their pulpits at the disposal of the well-known divines who are to participate in the proceedings. In local religious circles considerable interest is manifested in the convention and its probable work.

RECONSTRUCTION.—No. Nov. 16.—In the attempt to subdue by the Bell Telephone company against the city of Rochester to restrain the executive board from interfering with the work of the telephone, City Attorney Powers will raise the question of the right of the incorporation of the Bell Telephone company under the general telegraph act. This question has never before been raised.

Another Kentucky War imminent.

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky., Nov. 16.—Now was received here this morning that Perry county is again in a state of civil strife. Friends of the telegraph company have been removed, and both factions are prepared for a desperate fight. If an encounter should occur it will involve the entire county, as there are few persons in that section who do not sympathize with either one faction or the other.
